

Border County Notes.

LIVINGSTON.

Stephen Sanders, for 30 years a citizen of Chillicothe, died in that city April 7th.

Locust street, between Jackson and Clay, in Chillicothe is to be paved with vitrified brick.

W. H. Vincent, an old citizen of Livingston county, has removed his family to Eureka Springs as a permanent home.

Prof. Spaulding of Chillicothe has now such a lead for school commissioner that it is thought later returns will not be overcome by his competitors.

A. A. Martin, county prosecuting attorney, lately pulled off a proposed fight between two Chillicothe negroes by threatening to prosecute them to the full extent of the law if they persisted in fighting.

While exercising a young and fractious horse on April 9th, Charles Pardoner, who is in the employ of Wilson Bros., Chillicothe liveryman, was thrown from the buggy and seriously injured.

Clarence, the 4-year-old son of Mrs. Elijah Bolander, living south of Chillicothe, was given a fatal dose of landanum Sunday afternoon of last week by his 6-year-old sister while the children were playing doctor and patient.

Geo. Jerome, who has been for the past 17 years managing a large farm Gregory Lawson northwest of Keytesville, will in a short time depart for New York where he has purchased a place that he will devote exclusively to raising.

The Chillicothe Times is doubtless spoiling for a libel suit. In its issue of April 7th it has a cartoon representing Chas. A. Loomis, quondam Republican candidate for congress, representing the Chillicothe post-office appointment to the Tribune man with his right hand and holding the left behind his back to receive a $1,000 bill from a man labeled "Riley," presumably another applicant for the same position.

The team hitched to Wilson Bros. Chillicothe bus was driven into an open ditch about 10 feet deep Friday night of last week. The bus was on its way to the Wabash "Dude" and contained a number of lady passengers. None of the passengers were hurt, but one of the horses is dead from the accident and the other is likely to die. No signal lights had been put out to give warning of danger, and the city, whoever is responsible, will likely be called on to foot a bill for damages.

The new board of managers of the State Industrial Home for Girls at Chillicothe will, it is said, draw the line in a short time and separate white and negro girls. Separate apartments will also be provided for the criminal portion of the colony. It is as it should be. Innocent should not be mixed with those who are in vicious ways, nor is there reason for our legislators forcing upon the unfortunate poor a different code from that it asserts for their own daughters.

A burglar in on Chillicothe the night of April 7th looted the offices of A. B. Asper & Warren, abstracting a large sum of money, jewelry and other valuable papers for safekeeping. He also forced an entrance into the offices of the circuit court county clerks and attempted to break open the vaults, but did not succeed. It is supposed his object in the latter burglaries was to destroy the record of the papers he had looted in the first instance so that he might more easily negotiate them.

The identity of a tramp that had been held in the Chillicothe calaboose established in a curious way the other day. Among the plunder he carried was a medicine bottle, on the label of which was the familiar name of a druggist of some Iowa town, number, 13,627, of the prescription and the name of Dr. Peacock, who gave the prescription. Marshal Daily inquired of the Iowa state board of pharmacists and got the names and addresses of four Stewarts, and among them that of the druggist who put up the prescription. The man he had been holding was wanted in Grange, Iowa, for burglary, but when he received the information it was too late, for his man had then departed for regions unknown. The incident, however, serves to illustrate the value of the smallest clue in tracking criminals and the difficulty of escape from vigilant search.

When Ed. Smith, editor of the Utica News, stepped off the H. & St. Joe train last Friday afternoon he received an unexpected and unwelcome ovation from the McCoy's, who run the Times, an opposition sheet. Smith had published an account of a fight between Brick and Watt McCoy, and referred in no complimentary terms to trouble Brick had had with his wife. This angered the whole tribe and they made a truce of their own difficulties in order to wreck vengeance on the common enemy. Accordingly, they met their enemy at the depot at the time above stated, the men armed with pistols and knives and Mrs. Brick with a long and ugly-looking horse-whip. But Smith was equal to the occasion and drawing a 44-calibre revolver stood his assailants off until he reached his home some 300 yards from the depot. It is thought the feud is not yet ended, but that gore will yet redden the streets of Utica before vengeance is satisfied.

A. C. Fitcher of Onega, Kan., and Miss Anabel Broadbent, daughter of Judge Broadbent of Chillicothe.

Irvin Myers and Miss May Fisher, both of Brookfield.

Chas. A. Graham of Dawn and Miss Hook of Avalon.

MACON.

Macon school district has just paid the last $1,000 of its long standing debt.

The Macon Times' Cox correspondent complains that "Republicans, rabbits and rats" have taken the country.

Returns from school elections indicate the re-election of Prof. Robt. M. Thompson as county school commissioner.

The state board of equalization has raised the Macon county assessment on all real estate, both farming lands and town lots, 20 per cent.

The Macon Christian congregation have secured the services of Eld. E. M. Richmond for two Sundays in each month.

Wednesday, April 7th, John Kirtly, a Macon colored tough, fatally shot Ben Finney, another negro. Finney died Thursday. Kirtly escaped.

Chas. Duss of New Cambria did not announce as a candidate for membership of board of trustees until 11 o'clock the day of the election, yet he overcame all opposition with ease.

A strange man a few nights ago attempted to relieve Eld. Strong of his money in the H. & St. J. R. R. yards at Macon. The timely appearance of a policeman frightened the fellow away.

HOWARD.

The Missouri river at Glasgow is steadily and rapidly rising again and higher water is reported above.

At the annual declamatory contest in Central college auditorium last week, the prize, a $20 gold piece, was awarded to W. H. Bronaugh of St. Louis.

Major Darby, eldest son of Thos. L. Darby of Fayette vicinity, was frightfully cut near the ankle bone by having a corstak cutter run over him, attached to a run-away team.

Rain fell in the vicinity of Bethel last week in a continuous downpour for 12 hours. All streams were more swollen, so the oldest inhabitant says, than at any time since 1875.

The New Franklin Echo-News has dropped the hyphen and News combination from its name, and warns the press and public under the direct penalties from using the "old style" when speaking of or to it.

Wm. Bibb, colored, was shot in the left thigh Wednesday of last week by the accidental discharge of a pistol he was carrying in his pocket. The Missouriian opines the discharge was caused by internal heat from the body of the negro, raising the temperature of the pistol up to the discharge point.

It appears that some one person is carrying an assortment of keys that will unlock the doors of Fayette business houses. A short time ago two of her places of business were entered in a single night by unlocking the doors and a few dollars in cash taken that had been left in the money drawer.

Judge H. B. Watts of near Fayette brought a couple of his blooded cattle to town a few days ago and weighed them. A large bull, age not given, tipped the beam at 2,240 pounds and a 13-months-old heifer weighed 800 pounds. Pretty fair cattle, but we have known "Short Horns" to beat them badly.

M. W. Curry of New Franklin and Miss Edna E. Annan of Pilot Grove.

SALINE.

Patrick Ingram died in Marshall April 4th of cancer of the tongue from which he had been suffering for some time.

A horse Homer Gilliam was riding to Slater during the recent bad roads fell in a mud hole, breaking his (Homer's) leg just above the ankle.

Douglas Bros. of Malta Bend have closed out their stock of groceries to Peyton Jeter of the same place and S. B. Jeter of Miami.

What's the matter with the Saline county papers? Don't they have any local happenings in that county or are the editors too lazy to hunt them out?

LINN.

In the school commissioner's race, Joyce leads Bruce as far as heard, by 269 votes and is only 30 behind the combined vote of both Bruce and Perria.

C. C. Hicks, a former citizen of Brookfield, has come back to live in that town once more from his late home in Pittsfield, Ill.

The Henry bridge across the Mus-sel Fork, east of Marceine, fell into the creek Tuesday of last week, from the destructive force of the high water.

As Will McMiller was driving along a street of Marceline last week the mare attached to the buggy stepped in a hole and broke her leg at the back joint.

A destitute woman, with five hungry children, were fed by the Marceline charitable people Thursday morning, and transportation given her to Atchison, Kas., where she has friends that will help her.

At Brookfield's late city election the Republicans got all the "pie" by good majorities. For members of the school board each party elected one representative, H. Tooley, the Democrat, leading J. Carpenter, his associate, by 42 votes.

Miss Ada M. Sights of Brookfield and J. W. Stanley of near Bucklin.

CARROLL.

The new city administration of Norborne is Democratic.

Charley Rea has shipped two jacks to Kansas from Carrollton by express.

Lee Harden of Coloma died from the effects of a blow on the eye he received some time ago.

In the late Carrollton municipal election, the Democrats secured the mayor, R. P. Queen, and the Republicans three out of four of the council.

The state board of equalization has raised the assessed valuation of Carroll county lands 10 per cent above the valuation placed thereon by the township assessors.

Jas. D. Temple of Coloma neighborhood was found to be of unsound mind in an examination before the county court and has been ordered to be confined in a lunatic asylum.

Mrs. J. D. Parker of Carrollton has recently received a letter from a brother of whose whereabouts she had been ignorant for 45 years. He is living at Mount Cave, North Carolina.

Rev. Shumate of the Orphans' Home society has been permitted by the county court to take Sam and Mary Rooker and Jesse Wells from the poor farm and place them in comfortable homes in St. Louis county.

Circuit Clerk Higginbotham has received the state's check for $13,471.67 to cover criminal costs in several Carroll county criminal cases. The most of it, some $11,000, goes to pay the bill in the noted Taylor Bros. case.

Wm. Gates of Lancaster, Mo., a tramp stealing a ride on "the bumpers" of a Santa Fe freight train on the night of April 2nd, fell beneath the train and was horribly mangled. He was brought to the Carrollton depot where he was attended by Drs. Highsmith and Cook until he died in a few hours.

The jury in the case of Green vs. the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. of Kansas City, tried at the last term of the Carroll circuit court, after being out 27 hours awarded plaintiff $20,000 damages. A motion for a new trial has been filed and will be heard by Judge Rucker on May 15th.

Miss Lillie Monical and Wm. Morris, both of Tipton.

RANDOLAH.

Ground has been broken for the erection of the Moberly creamery buildings.

Died, at his home in Moberly of heart failure, David Colley in the 58th year of his age.

The Moberly city election resulted in a second term for Mayor Cave and the triumph of the entire Democratic ticket.

Died, Mrs. Mary Henry of Moberly, aged 65 years April 5th, of neuralgia of the heart after an illness of two weeks.

Ovie C. Head of Moberly, who has been ill a long time, has sufficiently recovered to start on a visit to his brother at Peru, Ind., in the hope of benefiting his health.

Mayor Cave of Moberly refused to order the saloons closed on the day of the late city election, because he had been advised by numerous members of the bar that he had no such power.

A convention of school boards of the northern half of Missouri has been called by State Superintendent Kirk to meet in Moberly April 16th and 17th to discuss questions affecting the best interests of our public schools.

The Huntsville city election resulted in a victory for Jno. D. Bright for mayor and the entire Democratic ticket except E. C. Scott for alderman in the Second ward, who was defeated by W. F. Myer, Republican, by two majorities.

Moberly was in total darkness for a while Wednesday night of last week. The flood, caused by the heavy rain, filled the pit to the fly wheel and caused a shutting down of the machinery of the electric light plant. During the rainstorm the sidewalks were flooded.

The two men, who burglarized the store of J. W. Taylor at Mt. Leonard, Saline county, recently, were captured last week in Moberly. The sheriff of Saline county has taken them back to that county for trial. The men gave their names as Frank Clark and Henry Cassidy.

MARIAGES.

Miss Mollie Myers and Joseph Berg, both of Moberly.

Misses Minta R. and Bertha E. Thompson and Jas. W. and Wm. P. Riley, respectively, all of Tipton.

Muscel Fork Menu.

(Unavoidably crowded out last week.)

L. Bartholomew of Bynumville was in our town last Monday.

Henry Smith was in our town Monday on business.

Mrs. Cora Smith is visiting relatives in Randolph county.

Mrs. Emma Morgan is visiting in Pee Dee this week.

Rev. Hise filled his appointment at this place Sunday last.

Jas. Price was elected as a new director in the Oldham district.

J. E. Chrane went to Kansas City Tuesday to buy cattle.

Oat sowing is the order of the day now out here in the rural districts.

Miss Frankie Stevenson has the promise of the Hickerson school for next winter.

A 13-Year-Old Child Paralyzed

It Was Caused by a Nervous Affection, and Rendered One Arm Lifeless.

From the Times, Paola, Kansas.

A happy family is that of Mr. James McKinney, of Hillsdale, Kansas, on whom a Times reporter recently called. His business with these people was to learn the facts for his paper of the cure of their thirteen-year-old daughter from a case of nervous prostration, and the facts were learned from Mrs. McKinney herself, who quickly told the following story:

"The first perceptible result of her extreme nervousness was apparent in a halting step of the child in her right limb," said the mother, "and a physician was called in to attend her. No apparent change coming, another doctor was called to attend her. She continued to grow worse, although we thought the doctors helped her, until she lost the use entirely of her right arm, which hung listless and apparently lifeless by her side."

"The physicians finally told us," continued Mrs. McKinney, "that Mary would outgrow it in time, but by accident, my husband picked up a circular in his shop, which so highly recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, that we concluded to try them. Mr. McKinney procured a box at Grimes' drug store in Paola, and we began by giving Mary a half pill at a time, and gradually increasing to one pill at a time, and before we had used one box we could see they were doing her good. This was one year ago. She had been working at that time for four years, under the heaviest and we were so encouraged over the good effects of the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, that we continued to use them, and the child started to school again and has been able to attend school ever since, gradually getting stronger and in better health all the time as you now see her, and we don't notice the old trouble any more."

"Yes, we are always ready and willing to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and do so all the time, to our friends," replied Mrs. McKinney to our question; and continuing, she said: "We do not know what the doctors called Mary's affliction, but we took it to be something like paralysis or St. Vitus' dance, and we became very much alarmed about her."

"Our local physician," she says, "now tells us that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a good thing as we could use; and while Mary is apparently well, she has occasional attacks of nervous headache, and then she says: 'Mamma, I must take another Pink Pill,' so you see she has great faith in them, but does not like to have us talk about her late affliction."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are as much or more enthusiastic over the great benefit done his daughter through the use of these pills. He said: "Nothing too good can be said by me of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—they are a great medicine."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are now given to the public as a reliable blood builder and nerve restorer, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves. The pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

again. It is nearly impossible to get across.

Some of the boys grew quite enthusiastic over the election of school commissioner.

A nice social was given at P. P. Chrane's Tuesday night. All present enjoyed themselves fine.

Arthur and Luther Walters of the North Missouri institute are at home this week looking for a winter school.

Misses Addie Jacob and Willie Maupin of the North Missouri institute visited home folks Saturday and Sunday.

"Aunt Bettie" Adams left Tuesday for Oklahoma to visit her daughter, and hopes it will improve her health as she is troubled with the asthma.

"Drew against Drew" was the title of a case tried in Squire Chapman's court last Monday. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of Drew the 2nd.

At the school election in the Cooper district, B. S. Egan was elected school director for the term of three years and the district ordered their school-house newly plastered, which, if done properly, will insure the children and teacher a comfortable house.

Now that McKinley is president and Mark Hanna is U. S. senator and our township and school elections are over, the poor farmer has nothing else to do but to go to work and wait as it patiently as possible for that Republican wave of prosperity so long promised us. But don't hold your breath, boys, till it comes.

Retribution Came to Scott Jackson.

Less than four years ago Scott Jackson, who was hanged in Kentucky last week for the murder of Pearl Bryan, was under arrest in Jersey City, charged with embezzling $25,000 from a railway freight office in which he was employed. Jackson turned state's evidence and implicated a fellow employee named Lettis, who was sent to the penitentiary, while Jackson himself was released.

At the trial the attorney representing Lettis paid his respects to the informer in terms which seem singularly prophetic in the light of recent events. Said he: "Today the arm of the prosecutor may be sufficient to protect you against the punishment you so well deserve, but while you are enjoying immunity from the laws of our state you must remember that there is a higher law than the statute of New Jersey. There is a stronger power than the arm of the prosecutor. There is a law of retribution, merciless and inexorable, which will overtake you, and you will then receive the just punishment which you now evade."

Justice, they say, travels with a leaden heel; but the criminal who slipped through her fingers in New Jersey in '93 slipped through a hangman's trap in Kentucky four years later. Retribution is as certain as it
